TRAIN WRECKERS ACTIVE.

Two Attempts To Derail Evening Local From Boston.

Switch Lantern Smashed And Sleepers Put On The Track.

Seabrook And Hampton The Places Selected By The Miscreants.

The Sunday evening local from Boston over the Eastern division, due in this city at 8:35 o'clock, narrowly escaped being wrecked, about fifteen yards this side of the Hampton station. The attempt at derailment was made with two sleepers. The locomotive was within sixty feet of them when Engineer Charles Bailey of this city discovered the obstruction, and but for the fact that the train was going at less than average speed, a terrible catastrophe would have surely resulted.

The local always stops at Hampton and upon starting out again is some time in getting well under way, because of a long hill which it has to climb. It was on the west slope of this hill that the mishap took place. Although an accommodation train, it travels swiftly between stations and if the sleepers had been struck at almost any other point on the line between Hampton and this city, the Boston and Maine would have been confronted by one of the worst accidents in its history.

One of the sleepers was ground nearly in twain by the locomotive, while the other was pulled out from between the rear wheels of the tender, after the train had been brought to a standstill. So tight it was wedged in that it took six men to wrench it out. All the passengers were severely shaken up, but none of them was injured. The local runs on Sunday evenings only and is usually crowded with people. It was well filled on Sunday evening.

This was evidently the second attempt to wreck the train on the same run. The first was made a short distance this side of the Seabrook station, by the removal of one of the switch lanterns, which was found smashed beside the track. The absence of the light was noticed by the engineer in season to bring the train to a stop before it collided with the rear end of a heavy freight train.

Disaffected Italians in the employ of the Boston and Maine, at Hampton, are suspected to be responsible for both deeds, although there is no tangible clue to the miscreants.

It is deemed strange by the railroad officials that the sleepers should have been placed across the track at a point where the train always runs slowly. It is possible that traps, not familiar with the locality or the schedule of stops, might have done it.

Conductor Charles Remick of this city was in charge of the local, which consisted of only two passenger cars and a baggage coach. Being so light, the train was quite readily obedient to the brakes. Had it been heavier and on a down grade, the attempt to haul up would have proved abortive. Quite a number of Portsmouth people were aboard.

K. H. S. FAIR CLOSES.

The benefit and fair of the Kittery High school in Wentworth hall in that town, which opened on Thursday evening last, closed on Saturday evening with the largest attendance of any evening. The evening was devoted to the presentation of an operetta and selections and drills. A large number of fancy and useful articles were disposed of at auction and the fair netted the school a substantial sum. Great credit is due the principal, Mr. D. M. Stewart, and his assistant, Mr. F. E. Locke, for the hard work they put into the course of entertainments and the school proved itself equal to the occasion. The response of the public was most liberal and the gifts from the Portsmouth merchants and storekeepers were greatly appreciated by the school.

ZAZA TONIGHT.

Though it is said that there never has been a play before that touches the heart so truly and tenderly and brings the tears so often as does David Belasco's Zaza, yet for every tear there is a laugh. It is hard to make one understand without seeing the play what it is that causes laughter. The play tells childish joy to towering passion—well! her undefinable and her unknowable ways of a woman, all of them lead up to the most laughable scenes and situations and even when the poor girl finds that she is living in an air castle, that her fondest hopes are crumbling, that her heart is breaking, there are flashes of wit, woman's logic and suggestions that are laughable for the lack of their

the story of the broken heart of a woman, yet in the first two acts Zaza's blunt honesty, her lack of conventionality, her vulgarity which we forgive because of her honesty, her ignorance and her whole souled unselfishness and her fidelity to her friends. Later on her funny attempts at house keeping, her laughable and lamentable failures as a cook and her swift transitions from reason and that causes many a smile to break through tears, though never before was the story of a broken heart so tenderly told, yet people do laugh long and loud at the many things Zaza says and does. They laugh at Aunt Rosa Bonne, Zaza's tipsy old aunt, they laugh at the blunt, earnest Cascart, and they laugh at Zaza's blundering maid.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The best talent in the theatrical world will be seen in Portsmouth this week.

Diamond Brothers' Minstrels are all right and deserve to be classed among the leaders.

Those who fail to attend the performance at Music hall tonight will miss the treat of their lives.

The attractions offered this week at the theatre were secured by offering very strong inducements.

This week will demonstrate whether Portsmouth theatregoers care for the leading attractions from Boston and New York.

The children of the Parochial school will give an excellent account of themselves in their coming entertainment at Music hall.

In all the cities outside of Portsmouth, patrons are paying $1.50 to see Zaza. It is playing to the capacity of all the theatres.

Zaza, A Female Drammer and His Excellency, the Governor, direct from their big runs in Boston and New York, at Music hall this week.

ACROSS THE RIVER

Brief Notes From Kittery Gathered for Herald Readers Today.

Mrs. Clarissa E. Martin, widow of Isaac Martin of North Kittery, died at her home in that town on Sunday at the age of sixty years. She is survived by six children, three of whom reside in Kittery and three in York. She was a woman held in high regard in that community and her death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Kittery will be well represented at the production of Zaza in Portsmouth this evening and all who attend are assured of a theatrical treat.

Gowen W. Brooks, a Kittery boy, draftsman at the Bath Iron works, has been stricken with a stroke of paralysis at Bath and is reported to be in a serious condition. His many friends and former fellow workmen at the navy yard will hope to hear of his improvement and return to permanent good health.

GREENLAND.

GREENLAND, March 5.

The posters are out for Oar Jim, a comedy drama to be given in the town hall next Thursday evening by the Ocean Side Grange of Hampton. Admission 20 cents, children 10 cents. A large crowd should gather and witness one of the best things that has been placed on the stage here for some time.

A practice game of basket ball will be held in the town hall this evening, Wapamago vs. Seminoles.

The sporting column of the HERALD last Saturday evening contained a proposition for a base ball league for the coming summer and if such a combination should be started it would, without a doubt be a great benefit to the sporting fraternity of this section and not only enable us to see some clean games, but place some of our teams in better standing. The amalgamated team would like nothing better than a place in such a league and would make teams in this vicinity hustle for a pennant.

Charles H. Brackett attended the Sportsmen's show in Boston last Saturday.

Charles L. Downing and Frank Rand were visitors in Boston last Saturday. E. W. Holmes who has been visiting in Boston and vicinity for the past few days, returned home Saturday night.

Miss Martha B. Clough who has been employed in Stratham, is passing a few days at the home of her parents in town. Herbert A. Tuttle passed Sunday in York, Me.

The new mail system of the E. H. & A. street railway is quite noticeable in this town.

The steam saw mill belonging to David Lamprey has been placed in the wood lot of John E. Seavey on the Rye road.

Work on the new bridge at the R. & M. crossing on the Rye road has been at a standstill on account of the cold weather.

YORK.

YORK, Me., March 4.

The club house of the York Village Rifle club, located on land belonging to Hon. E. S. Marshall near York Harbor depot, was sold at auction Saturday afternoon to Charles E. Bragdon for $22.

Freeman Sewall of Dartmouth Medical school is at home.

Several from this town will attend Zaza at Music hall this evening.

Sunday at the Congregational church Mr. and Mrs. William Grant were baptized and received into the membership of the church.

Joseph Hobbs of Kittery was the guest of Freeman Sewall Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Tulpey returned Friday from a visit in Manchester.

Miss Gertrude Paul left Friday for Worcester. Later she will be joined by Mrs. Jere McIntire and Miss Adaline of York and Judge and Mrs. Nathaniel Hobbs of North Berwick for a week's visit in Washington.

James T. Davidson and daughter, Helen were in South Berwick Friday.

The annual meeting of the York Association was held one evening last week. J. E. Staples served as president pro tem. The chief business which came before the meeting was the matter of letting the town hall. After some discussion it was voted to ask the town to employ the association as its agent, to let the hall to townspeople for a remuneration sufficient only to cover actual expense of lighting and heating. With slight changes the former board of officers was re-elected: Henry E. Evans, president; E. S. Marshall, treasurer; A. M. Bragdon, clerk; W. M. Walker, E. E. Moody, G. A. Marshall, prudential committee.

HAMPTON.

HAMPTON, March 5.

Miss Marion Post of New York city, who is spending the winter at Hotel Whittier, is confined to her room with the measles.

Mrs. Horace Hobbs is passing a few weeks in New Haven, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Eaton have moved their family to Georgetown, Mass., where Mr. Eaton has secured a clerkship.

The vacant store in the Old Fellows' block has been leased by J. W. Field of Exeter, a furniture dealer and undertaker, and he will take possession about the middle of March.

The next ball of the Excelsior club will be given in the town hall on Tuesday evening, March 13. Music by Dow's orchestra.

O. H. Whittier has leased the bath houses at the beach and connected with the Casino, for the coming season. They will be fitted up in first class condition.

The Pearl Seekers of the Free Baptist church held an entertainment in the interest of missions at the church vestry last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Refreshments were served at the close of the exercises.

People in town are rejoicing about the new mail system, it being now possible to have nearly as good privileges as some of our large cities.

A basket ball team is being talked of and games to be played with the Seminoles of Greenland for the benefit of the baseball team.

Miss Minnie Warren of White Rock, Me., is visiting relative relatives in this town.

The Herald has a way of catching items from Hampton ahead of their appearance in other publications.

The house recently owned and occupied by Howard Lane is soon to be removed to a lot on the Lafayette road.

Moses Leavitt is confined to his residence in pneumonia.

It is estimated that it will cost one hundred dollars to repair the damage done by the recent storm to that part of the beach road beyond the fish houses known as "the beach."

The next lecture in the series being given under the auspices of the Whittier club will take place on the evening of March 12 at the first Congregational church on Main street, Amesbury. It will be open to the public. The speaker will be Mrs. Ballington Booth on "Prison Work." People of Hampton may obtain tickets from Miss Stuart, Box 50, before March 9.

THE SOUTH AFRICA WAR

Report That Steyn and Kruger Are to Hold a Consultation.

MAKING RELIEF RUMORED

Story From Brussels Has It That the Siege of That Place Has Been Raised by the Burglar Forces.

London, March 3.—President Kruger is said to have left Pretoria with the intention of meeting President Steyn. The place where they will meet is not mentioned, but believed to be somewhere in the Orange Free State. Those in South Africa who are conversant with the effect the recent reverses have had on the Boers express the opinion that the meeting of the two presidents is preliminary to a suggestion of negotiations for peace. If this is the case, it must be due to the pressure brought to bear upon the presidents by the burghers and Afrikaners in the British colonies rather than to the personal inclinations of the presidents, as all the available information depicts them as being as determined as ever to persist in the war until the resources of the republics are much more exhausted than they seem to be at present, although some significance is attached to the consultation in view of the fact that the two presidents are in the hands of the burghers and Afrikaners. But the closest observers do not anticipate any sudden cessation of hostilities, and certainly the reports from the theater of war do not tend to encourage the advocates of immediate peace. The Boers are apparently rallying with their accustomed ability to repair a temporary reverse, and Great Britain has yet to test their force as a defensive power under the new conditions of warfare.

Telegraphing from Oostfontein, thinking the lord mayor of Liverpool for his congratulations in behalf of that city, Lord Roberts says: "I trust her majesty's soldiers in this country will gain such further successes as will speedily restore the freedom and prosperity of South Africa."

Report of Making's Relief.

"Making is safe. The Boers have raised the siege and have retired from the place."

This is a report that has reached London from Brussels. It was given out by the Transvaal agency there. It is credited here, as it has been expected that Making would not remain long under fire after Kimberley had been relieved. This was the last bit of news needed to make the British cup of joy run over, and although the announcement is not yet officially made, there is a general belief that it is true, and there is considerable quiet rejoicing here in consequence.

Colonel Baden-Powell's splendid defense of the town for 126 days has made him the most remarkable British hero of the war, and the public is only awaiting the official confirmation of the Brussels report to give itself up to enthusiastic celebration.

It is thought that a flying column may be already on its way to Making from Kimberley and that the Boers may have not wind of this and hurriedly abandoned the siege. It is believed that Lord Roberts' recent visit to Kimberley was not undertaken merely to congratulate the inhabitants, but to organize the military and to see the dispatches would have been made, but that it had to do with an immediate attempt to save Baden-Powell and his men.

Official news is awaited with the keenest interest. When the report spread throughout the city early this morning, a descent was at once made on the war office, but no information could be had there.

A dispatch from Steinkopf says: General Gatacre made a reconnaissance in force toward Stormberg. The Boers opposed him with two guns, and the British artillery pitched some shells into the Boer laager.

England's Outburst.

A dukedom for Roberts, an earldom for Kitchener and a peerage for Buller—thus say the prophets already busy at this occupation. If only the marvelous wave of enthusiasm that swept over the country this week could find its prototype in material rewards, Lord Roberts and his fellow heroes of the hour would all be made dukes forthwith. The change that has come over the spirit of Great Britain's war dream can only be appreciated by those who went through those long four months of unequalled gloom and depression and what are now freely admitted to be defeats.

The scenes accompanying this change equalled the wildest delirium that ever gripped through unimpassioned France. To a certain extent they were quite characteristic of the British race and quite put in the shade any demonstrations that occurred in the United States during the Spanish-American war. Yet it must be borne in mind that Great Britain had been sentimentally bottled up so long that there was bound to be an outburst.

Kimberley was relieved, and scarcely a stir was noticeable in this densely populated United Kingdom. Lord Roberts, by excellent strategy, caught General Cronje in a vise and annihilated him, and the nation said "Well done!" with several degrees less fervor than it would have made the same remark had England beaten Australia at cricket. It was still Napoleon's race, shopkeepers, played and eminently proper.

Ladyship was relieved. Then came the deluge of desire to publicly exhibit rejoicing which would no longer be denied. The mad fumes it took have already been described in these dispatches. The long casualty lists passed almost unnoticed. Who cared for the dead except to sing their praise? The introduction of victory, which had been months in the air, pervaded the length and breadth of the land. The cry of Great Britain's military weakness, the rottenness of her army organization and the menacing arms of other powers was still, and the tears of those who had become weavers of a fearless because of this great thing were only so much more evidence to the triumph war had won.

TROUBLE IN MONTREAL

La Patrie Feels That a Race War May Be Pending.

Montreal, March 3.—In an article headed "The Hour Is a Decisive One," La Patrie, the organ of Mr. J. Israel Tarte, minister of public works, referring to the attacks of the McGill students on

Laval college and the French newspaper offices, attributes their action to the agitation by Tory papers, which, it says, have been making threats and hurling disloyalty at the French-Canadians. The editorial concludes: "Is it not a painful spectacle to realize that we are two steps from civil war? We are not the aggressors, but we are strong enough to protect ourselves. We do not hold the majority of the English speaking population of Montreal and the country responsible for the shameful scenes which disgraced our streets. This is a decisive hour. The confederation can only be maintained by the two races living harmoniously side by side. There is very little to add to what has taken place to read the federal past and under and that without much delay."

Things are fairly quiet, but struggles are taking place in different parts of town. Lieutenant Colonel White, deputy adjutant general of this military district, is arranging at the present time with Lieutenant Colonel Sherwood, head of the Dominion police and commanding the forty-third battalion of volunteers, for the mobilization of the local militia companies.

The immense union jack which The Star has hoisted to take the place of one torn up by the French-Canadians was the cause of some trouble because a French-Canadian knocked him down. There was a general row, and one man was arrested.

Dean Walton of the McGill law faculty has expressed his regrets to Judge Mathieu of the Laval Law school for the occurrence of Thursday evening.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

National Convention To Be Held In St. Paul, July 17.

Chicago, March 3.—The following official call for the meeting of the National Republican league has been issued: "In accordance with a resolution of the executive committee the twelfth annual convention of the National Republican league is hereby called to meet in the city of St. Paul, Tuesday, July 17, at 10 o'clock a. m."

"Each delegate shall be entitled to one vote. Alternate delegates will be entitled to seats in the convention hall with their respective delegations. The president and secretary of state and territorial leagues are the proper officials to sign and certify the credentials of the delegates from their respective leagues. All delegates should be provided with such credentials. The business before the convention will be reports of officers, reports of permanent and special committees, consideration of amendments to the constitution, consideration and adoption of a financial policy for the maintenance of the national organization, election of officers, naming time and place for the next national convention or reference of same to committee and the consideration of any matters which may relate to national or state league organizations for the good of the Republican party."

Southern Election Laws.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—The committee appointed recently by the Republican legislative caucus to arrange for a convention of the Republicans of Kentucky, Virginia, Missouri, Mississippi, Alabama and North and South Carolina, to start a movement against the election laws in force in those states, held a meeting and organized. Senator N. T. Hayward of Butler county was elected chairman and Senator W. H. Cox of Hayesville secretary. The Kentucky state convention is to be held some time this month at Louisville. At that time an address to the Republicans of the states mentioned, calling a convention of all of them to meet at Nashville, is to be issued.

The Bubonic Plague.

Washington, March 3.—Dr. Walter Wyman, surgeon general of the marine hospital service, has just prepared a brochure on the bubonic plague, bringing up to date all the information concerning it and putting this within the reach of the public. Dr. Wyman is considerably disturbed over the spread of this disease, and particularly by its appearance in the island of Ceylon, off the coast of Yucatan. For the first time in its history the plague has invaded the western hemisphere, and there is no knowing when it may get a foothold in this country. The havoc which it is occasioning in the Hawaiian Islands has already attracted much attention.

Sibley Disbursing His Salary.

Franklin, Pa., March 3.—Shortly after the election of Hon. Joseph Sibley as congressman from the Twenty-seventh district, announced that he would divide his salary for his two years' term between the five hospitals in his district. In fulfillment of this promise, the officials of the projected hospital in this city have received a check for $1,000 from Congressman Sibley and a check for the same amount was received by each of the hospitals at Oil City, Warren, Bradford and Kane. At the end of his term each hospital will have received $2,000.

Baseball News From Detroit.

Detroit, March 3.—George A. Vanderbeck, late owner of the Detroit club of the American Baseball league, appears likely to retain possession of the club notwithstanding its sale to satisfy Mrs. Vanderbeck's creditors for alimony. Vanderbeck has complied with an order of the court requiring him to file a bond of $4,000, with sureties, for payment of the alimony. Mr. Vanderbeck today wired his players notices of the outcome.

Hurrying to Bayde Dutton.

London, March 3.—There was unprecedented activity at all the custom houses in the United Kingdom, the object being to unload the greatest possible quantities of tobacco, wines, spirits, etc., etc., on which, it is assumed, the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks Beach, will announce increased duties Monday. It is said that enormous sums are being paid in duties.

Tobacco Output Larger.

Cincinnati, March 3.—The statistics on the production of tobacco for January show an increase for Cincinnati and vicinity over last January. The increase in the tobacco output, according to The Western Tobacco Journal for January, was 62,415,569 pounds, or 37 per cent over December, 1900, and 2,949,706 pounds, or 11 per cent over January, 1900.

Canadian Strikers Win.

Valleyfield, Que., March 3.—A strike at the Montreal Cotton company's mill by which 2,000 operatives were affected has been settled, the men getting an advance of 5 per cent. Work will be resumed Monday.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS

Senate Seeks Information Regarding Corbin's Military Record.

Mr. Ross of Vermont Says That He Does Not Think Constitution Permits Seating the Pennsylvania Senator.

Washington, March 3.—When the senate convened, Mr. Pettigrew introduced and the senate passed a resolution instructing the secretary of war to send to the senate the proceedings in the court martial proceedings of 1864 against then lieutenant Colonel Corbin, now adjutant general of the army. The resolution also calls for other information bearing upon General Corbin's military record.

The Quay resolution was then laid before the senate, and Mr. Ross (Vt.) was about to address the senate when Mr. Burrows suggested the absence of a quorum. Forty-nine senators responded to their names, and Mr. Ross proceeded. Mr. Ross took a position antagonistic to the seating of Mr. Quay. He announced that his conclusion had been arrived at only after a careful study of the constitution, and his argument was based entirely upon his construction of that instrument. He contended that under the constitutional provision a vacancy in the senate could only be filled when it occurred during a recess of the legislature. The Quay case, did not, to his mind, meet this requirement.

At the close of Mr. Ross' speech, Mr. Teller (Colo.) took the floor to discuss the conference report on the financial bill. He maintained that too much power was given the secretary of the treasury. He was opposed to all the provisions of the measure, which he discussed in detail.

In the House.

In the house the desk of Representative Epes (Va.), who died Friday night, was draped with flags and covered with a profusion of cut flowers—lilies, roses and carnations. The chaplain in his invocation made feeling reference to the death of Mr. Epes.

It had been intended to proceed with the Aldrich-Bobbs contested election case, but unanimous consent was given to vacate the order heretofore made and postponed the final vote until next Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., the debate continuing Monday and Tuesday.

Bills were passed to authorize the construction of a bridge across Pearl river at Rockport, Miss., and for one across Rainy river, Minnesota, between Rainy lake and the mouth of Rainy river.

A joint resolution was passed for the government acquisition of a certain reservation of giant trees in California, also one for extending the time for building a bridge across the Missouri river at Yankton, S. D.

Mr. Weeks (Mich.), from the committee on elections No. 3, gave notice that the Wise-Young contested election case from the Second district of Virginia would be called up immediately after the Aldrich-Bobbs case was concluded.

Mr. Hay (Va.) then announced with an expression of profound sorrow on the part of himself and his associates the death of Mr. Epes. He offered resolutions of respect and sympathy, which were unanimously adopted. A committee of 18 members was appointed by the speaker to act with a senate committee as a funeral committee.

It includes the entire Virginia delegation in the house and Representatives Allen (Ky.), McCall (Mass.), De Armand (Mo.), Jenkins (Wis.), J. S. Williams (Ills.), Joy (Mo.), Clayton (Ala.) and Henry and Bailey (Tex.). Then, as a further mark of respect to the deceased, the house adjourned.

The News From Havana.

Havana, March 3.—The fruit company which recently purchased a million acres of land at Nipe Bay paid $40,000 to have the deeds recorded, titles examined and documents put in such a state that it was safe to take over the property. A Cuban lawyer said: "Similar cases to this are what mainly prevent American capital from coming to the island. A reliable judiciary is what is needed, and the same for Governor General Wood's judiciary committee reports the better for Cuba. Then action can be taken. The delay, even in the highest courts, in connection with the custom house cases injures Cuba in the eyes of her best friends, while if enormous fees are not paid to perfect titles to land every obstacle is placed in the way, and the probability is that you will own land with an insecure title."

Benham Wants Change of Venue.

Batavia, N. Y., March 3.—The motion for a change of venue in the new trial of Howard C. Benham of Batavia, charged with wife murder, will be made before Justice Lannert in special term in Buffalo on Monday, March 12. The notice of that fact was served on Myron H. Peck, counsel for the people, by W. E. Webster, Benham's attorney. Accompanying the notice are 23 affidavits, mostly made by residents of Batavia, in which the belief is expressed that Benham cannot secure a fair and impartial trial in Genesee county.

Mrs. Roosevelt Going to Cuba.

Albany, March 3.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by her sister, Miss Carver, will leave this city on Wednesday next for Cuba, to spend a month visiting the places of interest on the island. They will go to Tampa via rail, where they will be joined by Lieutenant McIlhenny of New Orleans of the rough rider regiment, who will be their escort during their stay on the island. They will go by boat from Tampa to Havana and will travel through the island, visiting Santiago and other places of interest.

Fourth Class Postmasters.

Washington, March 3.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Massachusetts—Belmont, C. R. Sayden; Fitchburg, Thomas Gordon.

New York.

New York, St. Johnsburg, Lewis Hall; Sand Lake, Arthur M. Peck; Rhode Island—Stoughtonville, Arthur A. Wood.

Philippine Receipts.

Washington, March 3.—The war department has received a cable statement showing that the total receipts from the Philippine Islands for the month of February, 1900, were $126,423, of which amount $157,000 was derived from customs sources.

TREATY WITH GERMANY.

Reciprocity Negotiations Still In Progress, but Little Done.

Washington, March 3.—While, technically speaking, negotiations looking to the making of a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Germany are still in progress, practically nothing has been accomplished in that direction since the departure of the German ambassador, Herr von Holleben, for Germany early last summer. There is no disposition whatever on the part of the officials of the state department to embarrass the German government by any insistence at this time upon an active prosecution of the negotiations.

While far from satisfactory, the existing conditions of the American export trade with Germany can, it is believed by the officials, be tolerated for a short time. The officials are hopeful that the time will be short, resting their belief not upon any direct assurance from German authorities, but rather upon reports of the political situation in Germany. It is understood that when the German government has secured what it regards as certain essentials of legislation from the reichstag it will be in better condition than it is at present to meet the expectations of the United States.

At any rate, it is a conviction of this kind that has inspired the United States government to avoid any urgent representations connected with the reciprocity negotiations at this stage. There is perhaps another reason for the negative course taken by our government. This is a desire to learn just what effect the ratification by the United States senate of the pending French reciprocity treaty would have upon the German government. It is said by the officials here that the French treaty gives preferential rates to many articles which figure largely in the list of German exports to the United States, the effect of the practical application of the French treaty would be to confer upon France all that share of the American market now occupied by Germany.

To save this important trade to her manufacturers Germany must, it is argued, secure a similar reciprocity treaty, and this can only be secured by an abatement of the restrictions upon the importations of American meats and other products. Thus by a natural working of the laws of trade and commerce it is conceived by the officials that our government may be able to entirely avoid a resort to the president of prohibitive trade with a nation that discriminates against the United States.

THE PECKS AMONG ROYALTY.

American Commissioner and Wife Presented to Prince of Wales.

London, March 3.—Society has pulled itself together, and the first drawing room of the season, March 13, promises to be a brilliant affair. Dinner parties are being given in many of the houses of the nobility. It is said by the officials here that the French treaty gives preferential rates to many articles which figure largely in the list of German exports to the United States, the effect of the practical application of the French treaty would be to confer upon France all that share of the American market now occupied by Germany.

To save this important trade to her manufacturers Germany must, it is argued, secure a similar reciprocity treaty, and this can only be secured by an abatement of the restrictions upon the importations of American meats and other products. Thus by a natural working of the laws of trade and commerce it is conceived by the officials that our government may be able to entirely avoid a resort to the president of prohibitive trade with a nation that discriminates against the United States.

Incidentally it may be said that it is due to the Prince of Wales, the fact that the bulk of British exhibitors have not withdrawn from the exposition on account of French hostility. The Prince of Wales will visit the exposition in the summer.

To Reforest Conemaugh Watershed.

Johnstown, Pa., March 3.—An attempt will soon be made to reforest a large portion of the Conemaugh watershed to prevent damage from floods or a possible repetition of the Johnstown flood of 1889, when $10,000,000 in property was carried away and nearly 5,000 lives were lost. The region is peculiarly liable to freshets, owing to its geological character and the removal of its timber, and as soon as the weather permits J. W. Toumey, government superintendent of tree planting, and another working plant expert of the geological division of forestry will examine the region and decide on a plan of reforestation.

Canadian Express Wrecked.

Toronto, March 3.—The Montreal express on the Canadian Pacific jumped the track about half way between Pointe Pool and Burlington and landed down a steep embankment, the coaches toppling over each other as they neared the bottom of the incline. The train was moving at a rapid rate of speed. There were a large number of passengers aboard, many being members of parliament on their way from Ottawa. It is understood that no one was seriously injured.

Mannuscu's Engineer Fined.

San Francisco, March 3.—The British consular court of inquiry which investigated the charges of incompetence and drunkenness made against Chief Engineer McDonald of the transport Mannuscu has rendered judgment exonerating McDonald on the charge of incompetence, but finding him guilty of drunkenness and negligence, though not of gross character as to warrant the court in suspending his license. He is fined the sum of £20.

Runaway Riding In Havana.

Mobile, March 3.—The following has been received from the Mobile Register's Havana correspondent: "I have inside information that there is to be a riding on the island before long. Lately there has been great demand for spurs, cartridges and handkerchiefs, the three principal necessities of Cuban warfare. Several of the stores have sold out their entire stock of these goods."

Fears For Steamer Wolcott.

Seattle, Wash., March 3.—The steamer Wolcott of the Pacific Steam Whaling company is missing and fear is felt that she has experienced disaster in the north Pacific. She left here for Unalaska by way of Sitka, Valdez and Cook Inlet, Dec. 28, and has not been heard from since.

Harrison on Porto Rican Bill.

Indianapolis, March 3.—In response to the question whether he had, as reported in conversation with friends, expressed opinion adverse to the Porto Rican bill, General Harrison said: "Yes; I regard the bill as a most serious departure from the right principles."

PRESENTED TO LOUBET

French President Given the First Lafayette Dollar.

AS AN EMBLEM OF AMITY.

Robert P. Thompson Makes the Presentation in Behalf of President McKinley, and France's Chief Executive Gracefully Replies.

Paris, March 3.—Mr. Robert P. Thompson, secretary of the Lafayette monument commission, has presented to President Loubet, as special commissioner of the United States, representing President McKinley and in his name, the first of the Lafayette dollars, which was inclosed in a packet costing $1,000. The presentation took place at the Elysee palace.

General Porter introduced Mr. Thompson to President Loubet, and the presentation of the dollar was then made by Mr. Thompson in a few appropriate remarks. He said:

"Mr. President, in the name and on behalf of his excellency the president of the United States I have the distinguished honor of extending to you, the high representative of the people of France, salutations and greetings of friendship."

"On the 10th of October, 1898, the anniversary of the victory of Yorktown of the French and American arms in the cause of liberty, the American school youths were invited by the president and governors of the several states of the United States to contribute their pennies toward the erection of the monument in Paris to a son of France, our great and venerated ally, General Lafayette. The response of the children was universal, the movement a splendid success. In further aid and in honor of the work an issue of 50,000 souvenir silver dollars was appropriated and ordered struck by congress."

"Of these 50,000 Lafayette dollars the first to issue from the mint was especially preserved for your excellency by the president of the United States, and I have now the distinguished honor, Mr. President, of presenting to you this coin, a simple and sympathetic token, on his name and for the people of the United States."

A Token of Friendship.

"I voice the sentiments of my countrymen when I express the hope that this memorial dollar, stamped with the likeness of Washington and Lafayette, may remain always, as it is today, an emblem of the amity and the unity of purpose of the two great republics of the world."

In reply the president said he was deeply touched by the kind thought of America's president and people and particularly by the gracious manner in which the coin had been presented to him by Mr. Thompson. He begged the latter to be the interpreter to the president of his warmest thanks and of the sentiments toward President McKinley and the American nation which animated the president and government of the French republic. Mr. Loubet added that he congratulated himself on receiving this souvenir, which was a fresh pledge of the reciprocal ties of esteem and friendship which had so long united France and the United States and which he hoped to see draw closer and stronger more and more.

President Loubet concluded with saying that it was especially agreeable to him that the mission was intrusted to Mr. Thompson, in view of the initiatory part which he took in the subscriptions of the school children of the United States to erect a monument to General Lafayette in Paris.

The French president then invited General Porter and Mr. Thompson to stay to luncheon, at which Mme. Loubet and M. Delcasse were present.

General Porter and Mr. Thompson left the Elysee delighted with the exceptional cordiality of their reception. The function differed from the usual ceremonies of this kind by the absence of chilling formality, Mr. Loubet putting his visitors at complete ease by the affability of his greeting.

Rebels May Be Defeated.

Chicago, March 3.—A special to the Chicago Record from Oaxaca, Mexico, says: "General Bravos' government troops have made an aggressive advance against the Maya Indians in the state of Yucatan during the last few days. His army is now within a few miles of Santa Cruz, the main stronghold of the rebels. The attack on this stronghold will be made early next week. The Mayas were entrenched at Aguila with their force at that place numbering 3,000 armed men. Six hundred Mexican troops, commanded by General Bravos in person, attacked them and drove them from the trenches. Thirty-two Indians were killed."

Work and Pay Increased.

Isphening, Mich., March 3.—The Lake Superior Iron company, employing 1,300 men, which recently passed under control of the Carnegie Steel company, has increased wages 20 per cent and has increased its working day to ten hours from eight hours. The change is not altogether approved by the employees. Isphening has been for a number of years the only eight hour mining camp east of the Rocky mountains, and it is feared by the miners that other big corporations here will follow suit after the Carnegie people.

Dangerous Stove Polish.

Rochester, March 3.—While Mrs. John Avery was polishing a stove in her home near Waterloo the polish, which had been mixed with benzine, exploded and in turn set fire to a bottle of the liquid. Her 2-year-old boy was playing near by, and both were instantly enveloped in flames from head to foot. The mother was badly burned about the hands and face, and the child is burned almost beyond recognition. The latter may die.

The Polygamy Inquiry.

Washington, March 3.—Rev. William H. Campbell of Utah was examined by the house subcommittee investigating the charges that certain federal appointees are polygamists. He said it was a matter of common report that John C. Graham, the postmaster at Provo, Utah, maintained polygamist relations and had children by his plural wife.

Alleged Immigrants Arrested.

Albany, N. Y., March 3.—A. Van Soun and G. O. O'Brien, representing themselves as commercial travelers, have been arrested here on the request of Chief of Police Cleveland of Utica, charging them with grand larceny and passing worthless checks. They are being held for the Utica authorities.

MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1900.

Bryan will be nominated in a new town but it will be the same old result.

There are still numerous copies on the road to Bloemfontein and Pretoria.

A question now is, from what locality will Lord Roberts take the title of his dukedom?

On February 22 the British warships in Sydney harbor hoisted their flags in honor of Washington's birthday.

Expansion was not in the last republican platform. But it was in the nation's destiny and republicans have lived up to it.

To the imagination of the British all over the world the colossal figure of the empire today is a person known by the unpretentious name of "Bobs."

An exchange of prisoners can now be arranged in South Africa, and this is the first thing connected with the war over which everybody can rejoice.

Ohio will ask congress for a ship canal to connect Lake Erie and the Ohio river. The new century promises to open with a general discussion of big waterways.

Philip D. Armour, Jr., left a wife and two sons. He left also $8,000,000 which will enable the widow to plug along until the boys get big enough to clerk in grocery stores or learn trades.

The populists want the banking laws revised. So do we. When banks can be compelled to honor our checks without bothering us for deposits, we'll be comrades of Donnelly, Bryan and Towne.

Fourth of July is hardly an appropriate day for the calamity howls that will go up from the democratic convention in Kansas City. That is one day on which people should generally find something good to say about the United States.

And now the envious Chicago papers are heaping ridicule upon Kansas City as a community of hayseeds and commiserating the unfortunate delegates to the democratic convention, who will have to camp in wheat fields and sleep under hay stacks, unless they have $5 to pay for cots in the slaughter houses.

A lot of Americans voted against 19 to 1 in 1896 and a few hundred thousand more would have voted that way if they had known as much about it as they do now. Yet Mr. Bryan affects to believe that the people have not yet pronounced upon the question and says: "I shall not stop talking about money until 70,000,000 people assure the right to attend to their own business without asking the aid or consent of anyone to attend to it for them." Who's been holding 'em, Colonel, for the last hundred and seventeen years?

THE RESULT OF THE MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The republican mayorality caucus on Saturday evening resulted in a general surprise and the unexpected happened. It was generally understood that Ex-Mayor John S. Tilton would be nominated, but at the last hour a movement was started in favor of Ex-Alderman Edward E. McIntire, and as the friends of Mr. Tilton had understood that there was to be no opposition the announcement that Mr. McIntire was in the field took them entirely by surprise.

Mr. Tilton consented to run with the understanding that he should receive a unanimous renomination and as soon as he learned that another candidate was in the field, he gracefully withdrew.

The fact that he did not seek the nomination, but had simply answered the call of his party, was generally known, and he had no desire to run if any other sought the place. Ex-Alderman McIntire is one of the most popular men in the party and as soon as Mr. Tilton announced his withdrawal, the votes all went to Mr. McIntire and his nomination was made unanimous.

He has had much experience in city affairs and should receive the united support of the party. He is in the prime of life and numbers among his friends the rank and file of both parties.

SOUTH AFRICAN SITUATION.

How It Is Regarded by American Editors.

Foreign military opinion appears to be divided as to the character of the resistance the Boers will now offer, some critics holding that they will break up into guerilla bands. For ourselves we can scarcely regard this as likely to happen until a further success by Lord Roberts shall have inflicted a heavier blow on the Boer military organization than it has yet received. There may be months of hard fighting yet ahead of the British.—Boston Transcript.

The war now passes to the stage where the British must make the initiative. The Boer forces will hereafter fight in more compact lines and with every advantage of sheltering natural fortifications. Great Britain is hurrying troops to the scene by thousands, and her army will be in a position where it can lose thousands to the Boer hand. That the defenders of their homes and their liberty will fight even to hopelessness seems assured and the blood that will yet flow may make the previous engagements of the war appear like child's play.—Boston Traveler.

Reverses at the beginning only intensify the determination of the British to go on; they had their last military prestige to retrieve. If the Boers are of a like spirit, and in the opinion of the world they are, Great Britain has still a lamentable job before it in South Africa.—New York Sun.

Gen. White and his eight or ten thousand men have given the world a fine example of endurance in their defense of Ladysmith—of endurance rather than of brilliance. They have stubbornly maintained their position, but they have inflicted very little damage on their foe, and the humiliating affair of Nicholson's Nek, when two strong British battalions were lost by the stampede of a mule train, is a grave blot upon the character of British military leadership. For a month or two the officers and men of the British garrison remained in good physical condition. But all this time they were singularly inactive, judging by results. There were only one or two sorties that were even moderately successful.—Boston Journal.

Cronje has lost his army, but his reputation as a military hero is secure. History has a niche for him in her gallery of dauntless soldiers.—New York Mail and Express.

Leadership, especially in war where human life is involved, is a matter of inestimable value. The world learned this lesson ages ago, yet most wars open with something of incompetence in high places. If Gen. Roberts had not been sent to South Africa the British would still be floundering along, for Buller is a good deal of a blunderer even in handling a single army composed of a few brigades. Gen. Roberts has just carried to complete success a clear-cut movement, mentally and physically prepared in the course of a few weeks, and executed with swiftness and vigor.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

If People Only Knew This Truth.

If health and happiness are desired, food and vitality must be secured by proper medical skill. Dr. Greene's Food is the best known physician in the world to-day, and he may be consulted free of all charge, personally or by letter at his office, 14 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. Every person, man or woman, who is ill with any nervous or chronic disease, should understand that Dr. Greene's Food is the surest way to recovery, and that his advice is free. Tell or write your troubles confidentially to Dr. Greene.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

Ward Two.

The democrats of ward two have nominated the following ticket:

Aldermen, Thomas H. Stone, George B. French, Herbert A. Marden.

Councilmen, Allison L. Phinney, Warrington Monahan, Frederick Gardner, Dennis J. Holland, John Frizzell, William T. Foley.

Assessors of taxes, Benjamin F. Russell, Robert J. Kirkpatrick, Frederick S. Wendell.

Overseer of the poor, Edward Smart.

1000 CLAIMS.

Equal Not a Single Fact. Portsmouth Endorsement Makes This Claim a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Portsmouth citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is the potent we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney trouble from a common backache to serious urinary disorders.

Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mr. Arthur Ballou of 31 Maplewood Ave., says: "I had something wrong with my kidneys for months, and the pain and annoying kept increasing instead of diminishing. I got so bad that I could not attend to my ordinary occupation, and had to knock off. In my back and over my kidneys there was a constant pain, and any ordinary movement caused sharp twinges to shoot through my loins. During these attacks, when my back was particularly bad, I had urinary weakness that was very embarrassing and inconvenient. I thought Doan's Kidney Pills might help me, and got a box at Phillips's pharmacy on Congress street. I did not take more than half of it before I was free from the whole kidney trouble."

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Engaging The Boers.

DORDRECHT, Cape Colony, March 4.—General Buller's Colonial division, after a night march, is now attacking the Boers in a strong position at Laingsburg Nek, upon the road from Dordrecht to Jamestown. The engagement is proceeding with vigor and the Boers are gradually retiring before the British shell fire from three points. Heavy rifle fire is being exchanged on the right. So far, the Boers have brought no big guns into action.

DORDRECHT, evening.—The British now hold a strong position, with the Boers opposite. The British will remain here tonight. The British loss so far is six killed and eighteen wounded. The Boers lost two of their guns and made a desperate attempt to retake them.

From Lord Roberts.

LONDON, March 4.—The war office has received the following despatch from Lord Roberts, dated Osonfontein, March 4th: "General Cronje, in behalf of his party, and Commandant Wodmar, in behalf of 4000 other prisoners, all of whom have now left the Modder river, asked the British officers to thank me for the consideration and kindness with which they have been treated. General Clements reports that he is engaging the enemy at the Norval's Pont bridge. General Gatacre reports that the Boers around Stormberg are diminishing. Colonel Baden-Powell reports from Mafeking, under date of February 15th, that all was well, and that the activity of the enemy has been met by activity on the part of the town's defenders. The conditions at Osonfontein are unchanged, save for frequent heavy showers which have improved the grazing."

Rhodes Going To England.

CAPE TOWN, March 4.—Cecil Rhodes is here and expects to sail for England next Wednesday.

WON'T VISIT RIVIERA.

LONDON, March 5, 4:30 A. M.—Her majesty has abandoned her visit to the Italian Riviera and will remain at home. Her decision to defer her usual spring holiday is considered another proof of her interest in, and devotion to, the welfare of her people. The queen will come to London on Thursday, for a brief visit, probably remaining until Saturday. She will receive a splendid ovation.

PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK.

New York, March 4.—President McKinley this morning attended service, listening to a sermon by Bishop Andrews of the Methodist Episcopal church. This afternoon, he went to ride with Mr. Hawk, proprietor of the hotel where he has been staying. At twelve o'clock tonight, the president, Mrs. McKinley, and party left for Washington.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The question of resending Senator Quay, the conference report on the currency bill and the Porto Rican government bill will divide the attention of the senate this coming week. The house will devote itself, with the exception of tomorrow, (which is District of Columbia day,) to the contested election cases.

CONCORD, N. H., March 4.—John M. Hill, one of the oldest editors and publishers in the state, died here this morning after an illness of several months. He was born here in 1821, and had always lived here.

Tortoise Shell.

The finest tortoise shell comes from the Indian archipelago and is shipped from Singapore and much of it is obtained on the Florida coast of America. There are three rows of plates on the back, called "blades" by the fishermen. In the central row are five plates, and in each of the others four plates. Besides these, there are 25 small plates round the edges of the shell, known as "feet" or "noses."

The largest turtle does not furnish more than 10 pounds of tortoise shell. Formerly the mud-shell was thrown away, being considered worthless, but at present it is very highly valued for its delicacy of coloring. Nowadays a very beautiful imitation of tortoise shell is made of cows' horns.

Rare Books on America.

Lenox library of New York has the most remarkable collection of books on America in the world. This library contains all books on America from the fourteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and the first half of the eighteenth. The editions are complete, embracing all those in Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, Italian, French, Latin and English. The Spanish manuscripts pertaining to America are numerous and valuable.

The Harp in Wales.

The harp has almost died out of Wales, but less than 20 years ago all the principal hotels kept a proficient harper, whose duty it was to play for the amusement of visitors. The harper who failed to provide this form of entertainment for his guests could not hope to compete with his fellows.

Perils of a Painter's Trade.

In Judge Hall's police court the other day a unique defense was offered by a painter who had been brought to the station in a helpless state of intoxication.

"I wasn't drunk, your honor," he persisted. "I was just dizzy, that's all. I'd been painting a barber pole."—Chicago Record.

At the Breakfast Table.

"What made you start and look so frightened?" asked Mrs. Small of the star boarder.

"Gee whizz! I could almost swear that I saw that sausage on the dish move when that boy in the street whistled."—Harlem Life.

Secrets.

Women can keep secrets. They often keep secret for a long time the fact that they are suffering from drains, inflammation, ulceration, or female weakness. But they can't keep the secret very long, because the hollow eyes, cheeks that have lost their freshness, and the irritability which comes from sorely tried nerves, all conspire to publish the story of suffering. The usual motive for such secrecy, dread of indelicate questions and offensive examinations, is removed by Dr. Pierce's methods. Diseases of the womanly organs are perfectly cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Sick women can consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter free.

"Your wonderful medicine," Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. C. N. Anderson, of Rockbridge Baths, Rockbridge Co., Va., "is a God-send to weak and sickly women, restoring good health without subjecting their weak nerves to the shock of an examination. I was all run down in health, could not work but a short time without resting. Was very nervous and had a very poor appetite. I decided to write to Dr. Pierce and state my case, and am thankful that I did, for I received a favorable reply. I took six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and one of 'Pelle's,' and I can now work as well as I could before I was taken sick. LOCAL SPORTING NEWS.

Lovers of bowling will be present in force at the alleys this evening. The night's game is an important one, and may be the cause of ending the present league leaders from their position. The friends of the Rockinghams will do all in their power to encourage their team to victory, while the adherents of the Knights of Columbus will cheer their favorites just as ardently. The Knights mean to win the match, while the Rockinghams are equally determined that they shall not.

The Delapoons believe that their chances of winning the basket ball league championship are excellent. Captain Bennett thinks that his team is capable of defeating at least three of the others four games in five, while two of the other teams will succumb to the Delapoons in half the games they play.

The new teams, which have an immense advantage over the red and blue lads in height, weight and age, at the beginning of the series will be deficient in team work and knowledge of the game, and Mr. Bennett hopes that the Delapoons will gain a lead at the beginning which cannot be overcome. Captain Hatch of the Greenland Wapamagos advances opinions almost identical with those brought forward by Bennett. Heavily of the Co. B seniors thinks that he has the strongest team in the city, and is confident that his players will carry off the cup. The Kitterys, experienced athletes to a man, although new hands at the game they are now playing, believe that with a little experience, they will be able to show their opponents the way to play basket ball and the Portsmouths have similar ideas. The Mapleswoods, the Y. M. C. A. players, and the Co. B juniors are saying nothing, but possibly they are sawing wood.

Portsmouth has been frequently mentioned of late as a good town in which to locate a base ball team, but most of these opinions have been advanced by out of town cranks. Some local followers of the game have come forward with a new idea. It involves nothing less than the organization of a city league exactly similar in plan and scope to the basket ball and bowling leagues. It is stated that six teams could easily be secured in this city and its immediate vicinity, and the statement is also made that such a league would pay better and awake more interest than one such as has been mentioned in this column several times in the past few days. As we have once before remarked, the Delapoons and Mapleswoods have practically decided to have base ball teams next summer, and the Piscataqua athletic club is seriously considering the advisability of organizing a nine. Having three teams for a nucleus, it would seem to be an easy matter to secure three more Greenland and Kittery would undoubtedly be only too glad to enter teams, and the Wood's Brothers would probably be anxious to secure a place for their team in the schedule.

The Mapleswoods are confident that their basket ball five will make a better name for themselves than their bowling team has succeeded in doing.

F. Ed Spooner, the best informed and brightest writer on cycle racing matters in America, writing in the current issue of the Cycling Gazette, says that the coming season will see this sport as popular as it was in '91 and '95. If Spooner be right, and he has proven himself a true prophet in the past, Portsmouth should see some racing next summer.

It is possible that the number of teams in the basket ball league will be reduced to eight as ten is an inconvenient number, and would complicate the business of the league, without increasing interest in the games.

ED. MCINTIRE FOR MAYOR.

Republicans Nominate The Popular Ex-Alderman.

Ex-Mayor Tilton Withdraws In Favor Of His Rival.

Caucus Was Held Saturday And Proved Entirely Harmonious.

The result of the republican mayoralty caucus, on Saturday, was the nomination of Edward E. McIntire, who received 646 votes. The nominee was given a clear field soon after the balloting commenced, by the withdrawal of former Mayor John S. Tilton.

The caucus was held at the old court house from four o'clock in the afternoon, until eight. William H. Moore chairman of the republican city committee, presided, and Herbert B. Dow served as secretary.

The balloting was very brisk right from the start. Before it had been in progress more than a half hour, Mr. Tilton did the graceful thing by giving way to his younger rival for the honors, and thence until the close of the voting the outcome was a foregone conclusion.

Directly after the announcement of the vote, a committee was chosen to wait upon Mr. McIntire at the Central fire station adjoining the court house, where he remained pending the result of the caucus, and notify him of his nomination. When the committee returned with the nominee, he was received with an outburst of applause.

Mr. McIntire made a short but fitting speech of acceptance and appreciation. "I thank you sincerely," he said, "for the honor you have conferred upon me today. It was entirely unexpected by me. If I should be elected to the office, I shall do my best to fill the bill."

This was acknowledged by a round of hearty cheers. Mr. McIntire has served in the board of aldermen and is at present the city inspector of plumbing. He also acquitted himself creditably one term, in the legislature. He is a member of several secret societies, and his popularity is expected to make him a very strong candidate. He will attract a large following from the laboring class, in particular.

WARSHIPS COMING NORTH.

Big Squadron Will be in Boston on Bunker Hill Day.

Rear Admiral Farquhar, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, will arrange the program of the summer cruise of that squadron along the New England coast so as to have it at Boston on June 17, in order to participate in the celebration of the 125th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill.

The vessels of this squadron are the New York, Texas, Detroit and Machias. It is probable that the big battleship Kearsarge, fitting out at the Norfolk navy yard, will be added to the fleet within the next few weeks, and take part in the usual summer maneuvers along the New England coast.

She will take the place of the New York as the flagship of that squadron. As the New York is greatly in need of repairs it is likely that as soon as relieved by the Kearsarge she is to be put into dry dock at New York for a thorough overhauling.

The same ships of the squadron will probably be here during the Kearsarge celebration.

WATER FRONT NEWS.

A SENSATIONAL RUNAWAY.

Driver For Wood Bros., Seriously Hurt on Saturday Evening.

A very serious runaway occurred on Saturday night, as the result of which John Burton lies in a precarious condition at the hospital.

Willfred Wood and Burton, with an eight-horse dray of Wood Bros., landed a boiler to York, Saturday afternoon. They started back in the evening, with two pairs of horses on the dray and one pair following on behind. At Butler's crossing, freight train No. 248 scared the horses and they ran wild.

Burton, who was driving, had no place to brace his feet, so the horses got the best of him and rather than cross the toll bridge he turned off to the left over the railroad bridge, towards Kittery. It was so dark that he could not see the road, and the horses ran into the field between the blacksmith shop and the building owned by the railroad.

The driver was thrown out, and the reins became entangled around his foot so that he was dragged over one hundred yards. Then his book came off releasing him from the reins, but leaving him in such a position that the dray, weighing 550 pounds, passed over his abdomen. The horses were stopped by coming in contact with a tree.

Willfred Wood, at the time the horses started to run away, was walking behind the dray to warm up. He saw the horses start off, but was not quick enough to check them, and supposing they had run across the toll bridge, he started across also. Mr. Young, the gate tender, told him that they had not crossed the bridge, and he started back.

When opposite the place where they had turned into the field, a dog rushed at him and his voice was heard by the injured driver, who made known his presence by calling out for aid.

Mr. Wood found Burton lying on his back in great agony. A team was quickly procured and he was brought to the home of Barpee Wood on Rogers street. Dr. Towle was summoned and ordered him removed to the hospital, where it was found that no bones were broken, but that he had received a severe shaking up and probably sustained injuries internally. On Sunday evening Burton was resting comfortably.

The two horses that had been following the dray, instead of going into the field after the runaway team, started on the gallop over the toll bridge. The toll keeper, hearing the thud of their hoofs, hurried out to swing open the heavy gates, suspecting a runaway. Before he could do so, however, the pair came into it full tilt, rushed through it and kept on. Soon after, they came tearing up Vaughan street and made straight for the Wood stable. Both horses were bleeding from the nose and bruised considerably about the head.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

The democrats of the city on Saturday evening held the last of their caucuses for the nomination of candidates for support at the coming election, as follows:

Ward 1—Aldermen, Chauncey B. Hoyt, William G. Smart, Frederick E. Perkins; councilmen, William J. Littlefield, Charles H. Kehoe, Arthur S. Johnson, Arthur L. Rice, Philip T. McWilliams, John Mooney, Jr.; assessor of taxes, John E. Locke. Aldion S. Littlefield, George R. Paltrey; overseer of the poor, Oscar L. Guptill.

Ward 2—Aldermen, Thomas H. Simes, George B. French, Herbert A. Marden; councilmen Allison L. Phinney, Warrington Moulton, Frederick Gardner, Dennis J. Holland, John Frizzell, Wm. T. Foley; assessors of taxes, Benjamin P. Russell, Robert J. Kirkpatrick, Frederick S. Wendell; overseer of the poor, Edward Smart.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo. lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected soon to die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Globe Grocery Co's drug stores every bottle guaranteed.
